Initial draft

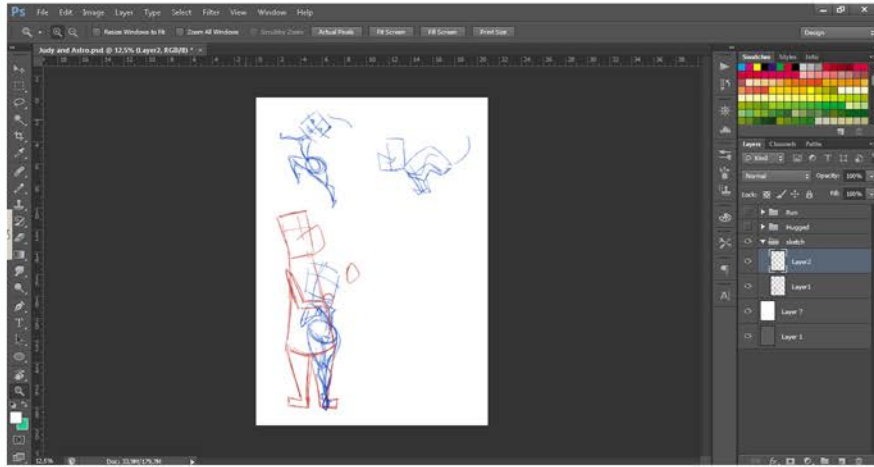

Finished draft

Tutorial - Step by Step

From beginning to end of an illustration.

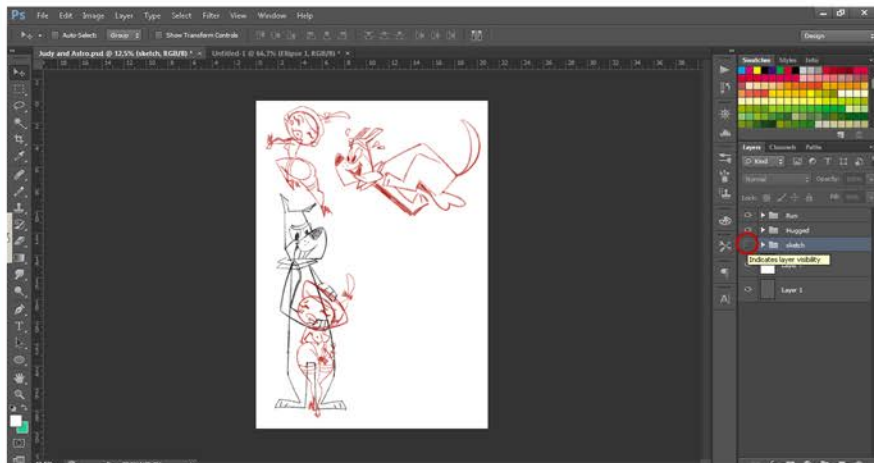

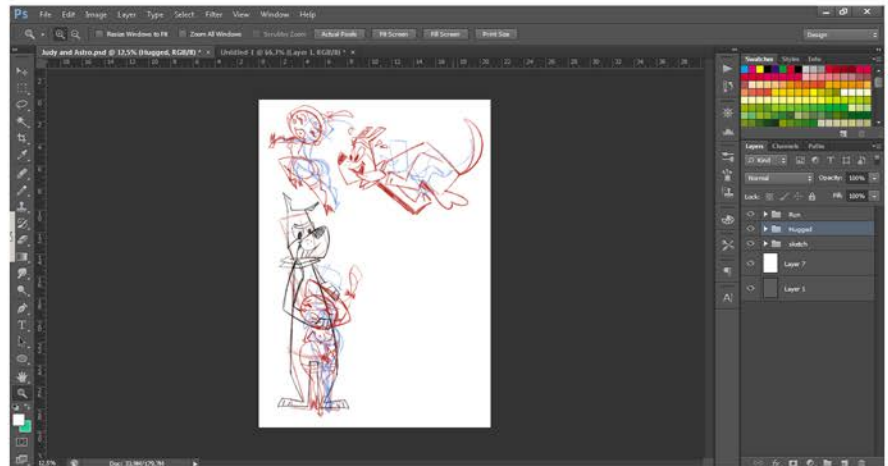

First, I create a very simple draft without worrying about proportions. The initial idea was a dog running after a girl, I wanted to create an image of the genus Bestiality, which is funny and at the same time provocative and light.

I used the characters Judy and Astro from the cartoon The Jetsons.

The next step is to define the idea with an improved sketch, giving proportion and volume in the characters.

I separate the images into folders, rename and change the "Fill to 50%" in the Sketch folder, create two more separate folders with the name "Run" and "Hugged" each image will be created separately.

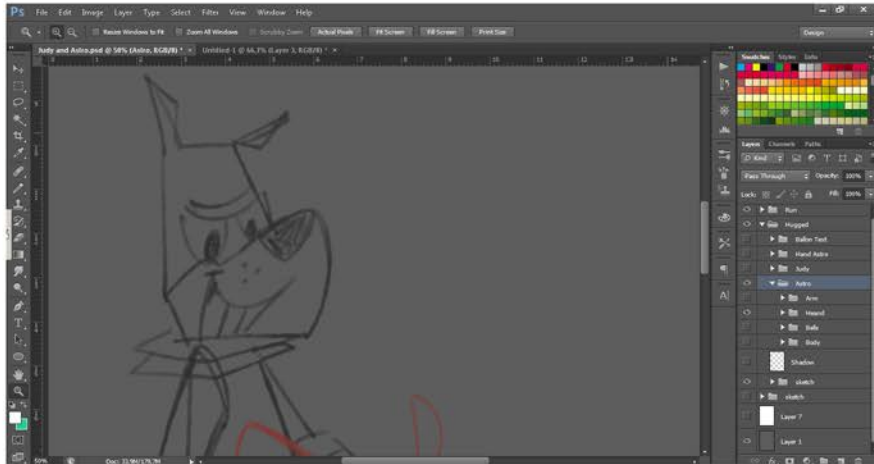

New sketch set, I press "Indicates Layer Visibility" to disappear with the first sketch.

* I used some reference pictures of the characters taken from Google.

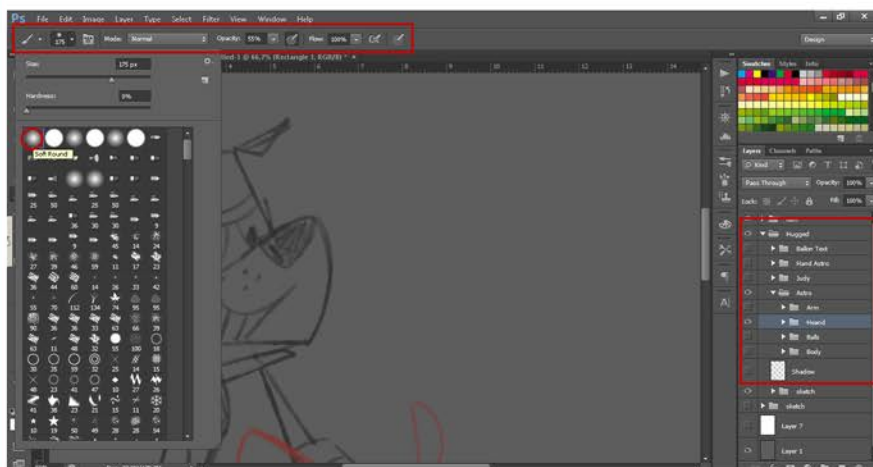

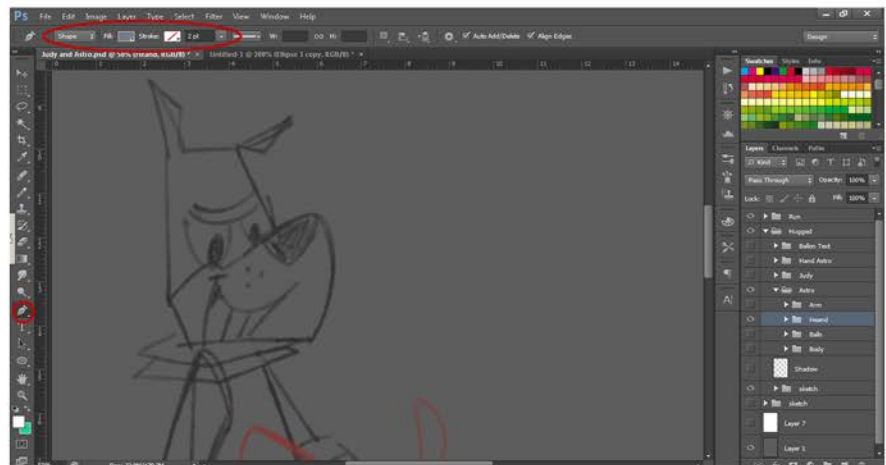

Tutorial - Step by Step

From beginning to end of an illustration.

It gets a bit tricky here because I have to think about how this image will be finished with colors, I did not want to create an image with lines, only light colors and some shadows.

Main tools "pen tool" mode "shape" to create form filling

Brush tool "normal" mode "Opacity 55%" "opacity button selected".

I changed the background color to fit better and not hurt the view, the white background may bother some people. I created folders with names of each body part for the characters.

* Some body parts of the characters will be in the freight of other parts, but this you will notice when you start coloring with the pen tool and with this will change the placement of some folders.

Sketch folder set to Fill 50%

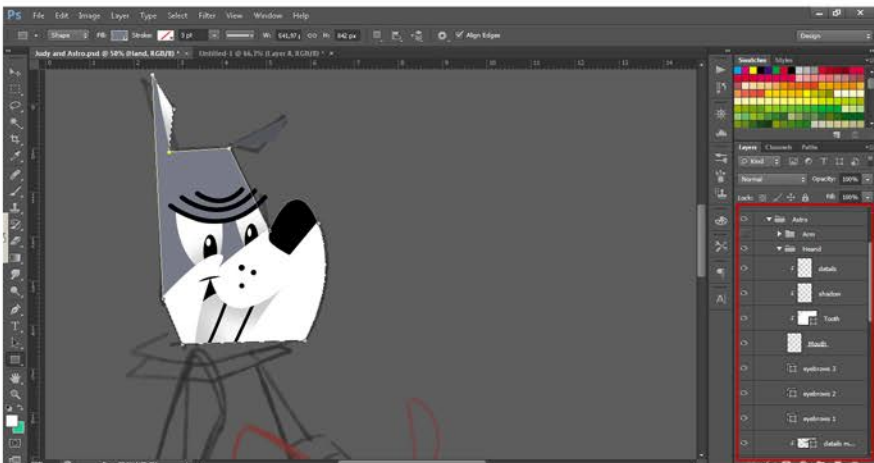

Tutorial - Step by Step

From beginning to end of an illustration.

With pen tool and Fill with 30 or 34% you create the shape of the character's head, it does not have to be like Sketch, if you feel that you need to change something, you can change it, be free for that.

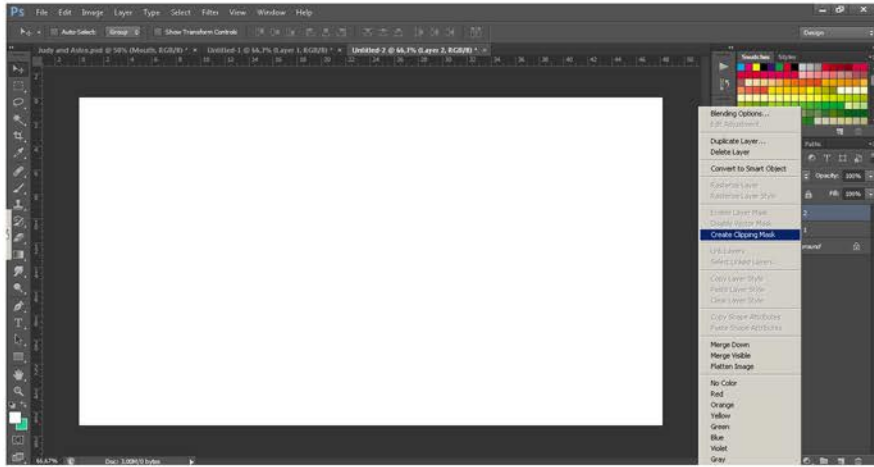

Note beside the Layers, the detail that are inside the layer "masks" head and out of the head layer.

The mouth I created went from the head layer, in a new layer and added the details and shadow.

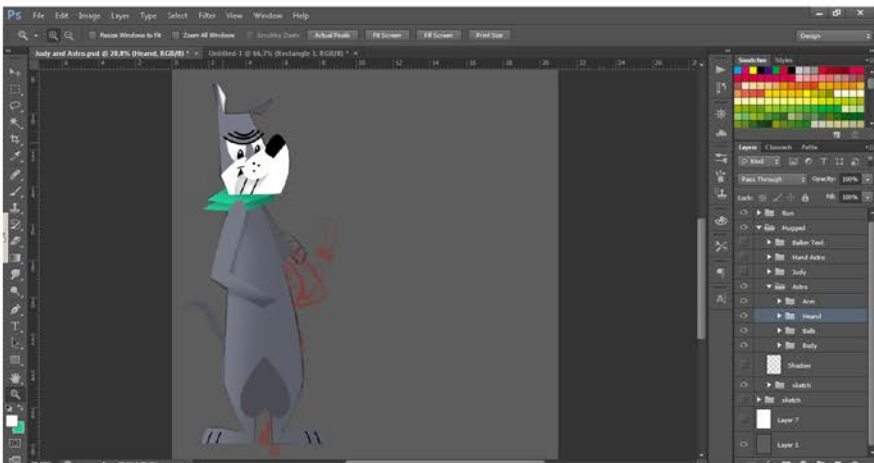

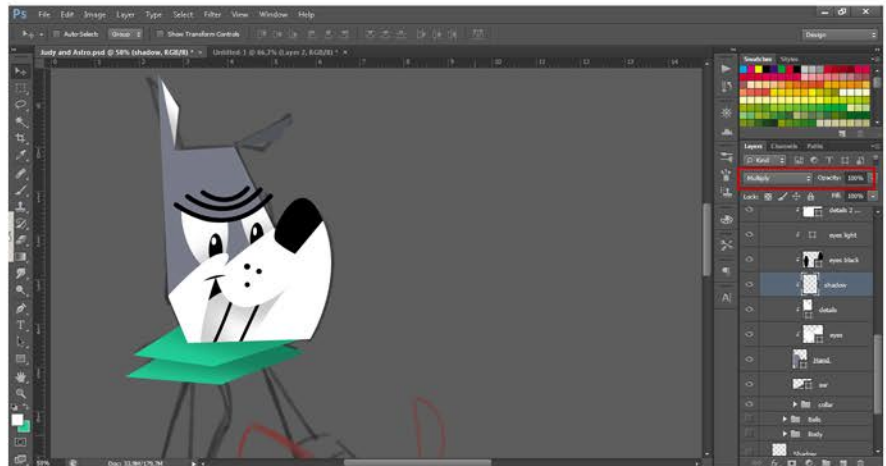

Tutorial - Step by Step

From beginning to end of an illustration.

To create a layer inside another, you need to create a new layer on top of the main "right click button" "Create clipping Mask"

The shadow layers are all in "Multiply"

Repeat the process on other parts of the body, do not forget to change the positioning of the folders of each part of the body to Judy's ears, I chose two darker circles to make it stand out better.

I create the same process in Judy.

Any doubts see the layers on the side.

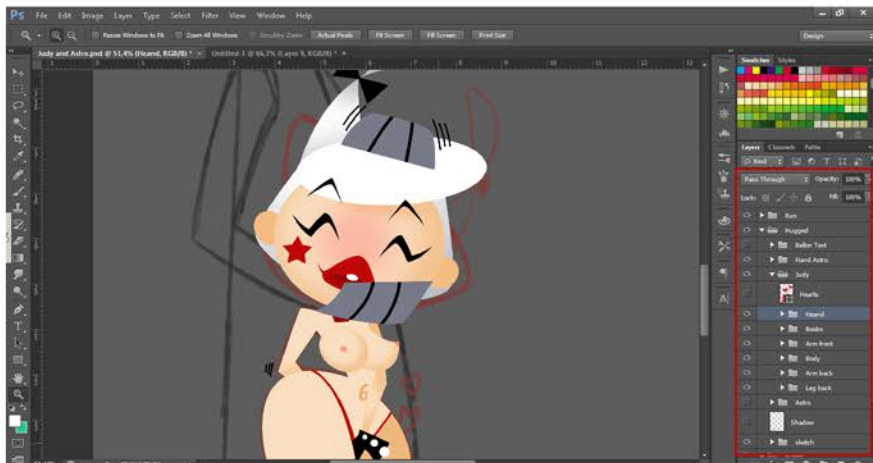

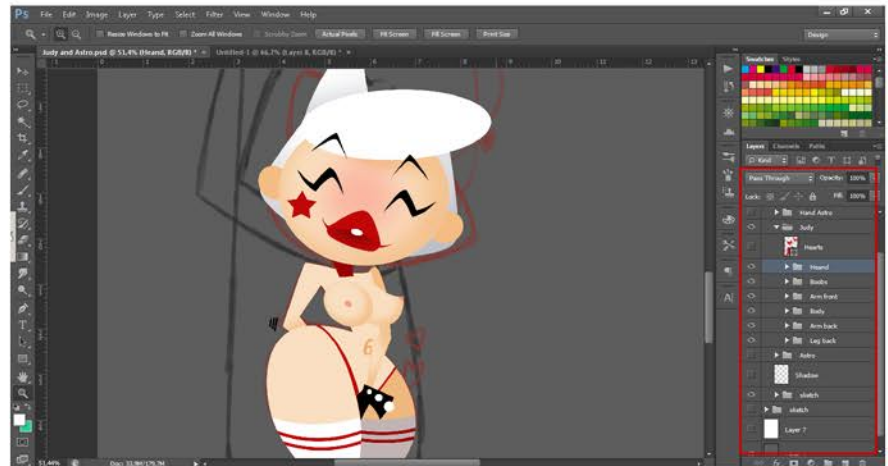

Tutorial - Step by Step

Tutorial - Step by Step

During the creation of the painting comes new ideas, such as some speech Balloon and other details, the imagination does not stop.
