

Keychains have been made!

I wrote that I "wanted to make keychains" of the SD characters that appear on the card designs in "Imperial Knights," introduced last time, but with that momentum, I went and really made them!

I only made a few this time, but I'm thinking of selling them on BOOTH, so you'll be informed when sales have started.

Well, I just wanted to try making them, but if they're well-received, I want to try making some for other characters.

They're made with a mold, dimensions 50mm x 75mm.

The pattern size is probably 45mm x 50mm.

The price will be set at about 650 yen.

Please forgive me, as the amount wasn't large enough to be cost-reduced through mass production...

Also, if you use BOOTH, purchased goods can be shipped outside of Japan, so I'd like to deliver them all around the world!

If there are extra, I'll take them with me to Comiket.

Ah, I wonder if Comiket will happen this winter...

I hope so, but it's good for the spread of COVID-19 to slow down.

Promotion

We're currently holding summer campaigns on both DLsite and FANZA.

Of course, Poison will also participate, so if you have any works still unpurchased, I'd be happy if you took this opportunity to pick them up!

Twitter Revival

After being frozen for a long time, the official Poison Twitter is back!

On Twitter, we will tweet about various "topics not substantial enough to warrant an article," mainly the CGs of past erotic events, different than Ci-en or FANBOX.

It's a different account than before, so please follow us!
