

We'd like to introduce some small alterations to the system of erotic status and erotic attacks during battle.

About Erotic Status

Erotic Status in "Imperial Knights" will be like this.

The base is the same as in "Chris Survival," but there are some changes to the items.

Mental State

We plan to have Diana's current feelings displayed as a sexual sensitivity level on the upper-right.

It'll be similar to the message window introduced for "The Hero" the other day.

Other Items on the Left Side

It's pretty much a counting function used to record the player's progress in the game.

Sexual Sensitivity Development Level

There's no battle-fucking in "Imperial Knights," so compared to "Chris Survival," I tried decreasing the number of items to make it more refreshing.

When the Development Level goes over a fixed level, things like Erotic Events happening around town will increase, and the rewards for prostitution will increase.

As the level of Sexual Sensitivity increases, Diana will become more active during prostitution, and her reactions during erotic scenes will change.

Also, if this level changes, Diana's expression in the central stance image will also change.

This time, there is no difference depending on erotic equipment, and regarding bad statuses, there's about "semen-covered" and "lewd-crest," so compared to "Chris Survival," the erotic status system is almost like a bonus.

About the Erotic System in Battle

The gist of erotic attacks during battle is demonstrated below.

Enemy Heat

When a female character in your party's remaining HP is 'Below 33%,' the enemy has a high chance to go into a 'heat state.'

Heat State

Enemy attack power and agility are greatly increased.

Enemies will sexually attack the female characters whose HP is below 33%.

Cancels when 'damage is taken' or 'female resists successfully (special action).'

Erotic Attacks

Female characters who take an erotic attack by an enemy in a heat state will be mercilessly raped on the spot.
When an enemy begins an erotic attack, each character will be under the following state.

State of Enemy

While attacking female characters, it will also perform normal attacks.

It will continue to rape the female character until it is incapacitated.

*If it takes damage, only the heat state will disappear, but it will not stop raping.

State of Female Character Under Attack

Only special actions can be performed.

If the enemy ejaculates, she will be 'semen-covered (lowered stats).'

There are 3 ways to cancel this state.

The battle ends (defeat all enemies, or successfully escape.)

The female character can use special actions to get out of it on her own.

Incapacitate the enemy (paralysis, hypnosis, bring the enemy's HP to 0, etc.)

Post-Rape State

If a female character continues to take the enemy's erotic attacks, she will become completely unable to resist.

This state is similar to being incapacitated (HP 0), where all actions become unavailable, but it differs from incapacitation in the below ways.

Post-Rape State

Unable to revive with recovery magic or items.

She will recover after the battle ends.

Considering that in an normal incapacitated state during battle, recovery is possible with recovery magic or items, and even when the battle is over, you don't recover, so this could be said to be the opposite.

However, even in this state, the enemy will attack, so if her HP reaches 0, she will become incapacitated.

Since this can be treated like incapacitation, for example, if all of the female characters in your party have the post-rape state, and all of the male characters are incapacitated, the battle will be lost.

Example 1: Your party consists of Diana only

The battle is lost as soon as Diana is in a post-rape state or incapacitated.

Example 2: Your party consists of 2 people, Diana and a male character.

If Diana is in a post-rape state or incapacitated, and the male character is also incapacitated, the battle is lost.

Example 3: Your party consists of 3 people, Diana, Lysithea, and a male character.

If Diana is in a post-rape state or incapacitated,
Lysithea is in a post-rape state or incapacitated,
and the male character is also incapacitated, the battle is lost.

For details, I think we'll be able to release Trial Ver 0.3 soon,
so please check it out there (´▽`)
